Description

During what is now known as "the great urinary tract infection of '99", one of my cats, "Cosmo" made his mark on many items in our basement.

Of those, I present this lot of 17 Atari 2600 games. Whether Cosmo was specifically stating his disapproval for these particular games or if they were just a random spray-shot is still unknown.

Though the full effects of his "signature" weren't initially evident, I believe that the crusting that you can see in the close-ups is the end result of a situation that nearly found Cosmo in a shallow grave, as he was nearly strangled by owner (me). Fortunately for Cosmo he is very quick, if not terribly considerate.

Cosmo is alive and well (see recent picture), and no longer jizzing on my collectibles, but the outcome of this historical event can now be yours!

Details for the seller and high bidder(s):

The seller should contact the winning bidder(s) with information on the total cost, including shipping, and where to send payment. The winning bidder(s) must pay the seller directly for the item(s), and it is the seller's responsibility to fulfill the order when payment terms are met. The binding contract of the auction is between the winning bidder and the seller.
