Description

You are bidding on a one of a kind Pac Man -Design Concept. This was the original inspiration for Namco designer Toru Iwatani to create the world's most recognizable video game character of all time. It is a must for any classic video game enthusiast or collector. I have a medium and large available, but am only willing to sell one. The winning bidder can choose from either. For an additional fee I can add the correct accessories to convert the design from Pac Man to either Mrs. Pac Man or Jr. Pac Man. This is only based on the original concept. The original was unfortunately destroyed almost immediately after its discovery. It is now a nitrogen rich lump of organic matter presently located in a field not far from Namco headquarters in Japan. Buyer pays $10 S&H. Sorry due to the frailty of this item I cannot guarantee 30 minute delivery. This item is in no way affiliated with Namco Group Worldwide or its subsidiaries.
