Eons before, when the elders were still children, the fabled land of Baljing was home to a cheerful and trusting race. The Baljing people were generous and looked after each other throughout their lives. Everyone prospered, and hunger and homelessness were unknown. The great Dragon Spirit that protected and nurtured this land was so pleased with this enlightened attitude that it presented them with a splendid dragon statue for their town square. The word of the wondrous statue, and rumors of its magical properties, spread to other kingdoms; and its fame soon established it as the very symbol of Baljing.

Now to the north of Baljing, high atop Mount Gia, there lived an envious and malicious warlock named Zabboong. bolts to strike the legendary statue in the town square. Wondrously, the statue was transformed into a great warrior who began to strike back at Zabboong’s murderous hordes. In response, the warlock’s armies retreated fearfully back to Mt. Gia with the warrior in hot pursuit, determined to vanquish all its evil forces. YOU are that valiant warrior, and your mission is to defeat Zabboong’s sinister crew, stop his reign of terror, and return Baljing to the protection of the great Dragon Spirit.

And it came to pass that Zabboong was jealous of the thriving community, since he governed only the monsters and worthless wretches who inhabited Mount Gia and its surrounding area. Nothing but evil reigned in Zabboong’s domain.

Spurred on by his jealous hatred and malevolent passion, Zabboong and his monstrous armies attacked Baljing and set the city ablaze. Many lives were lost and the land was left in ruin. All hope was gone, and despair settled upon the inhabitants of Baljing. Enraged by Zabboong’s attack, the Dragon Spirit filled the skies with dark and foreboding storm clouds.

Through the thick, black clouds, the Dragon Spirit sent a gigantic lightning bolt to strike the legendary statue in the town square. Wondrously, the statue was transformed into a great warrior who began to strike back at Zabboong’s murderous hordes. In response, the warlock’s armies retreated fearfully back to Mt. Gia with the warrior in hot pursuit, determined to vanquish all its evil forces. YOU are that valiant warrior, and your mission is to defeat Zabboong’s sinister crew, stop his reign of terror, and return Baljing to the protection of the great Dragon Spirit.

There are six very different and very dangerous stages that represent Mount Gia and the surrounding area. Each is filled with monstrous inhabitants who have orders to stop the courageous Dragon Fighter. Defeat the enemies and the guardians that preside over each stage to engage Zabbaong in a final battle.

STAGE 1

Stage 1 is the area of snow covered ground at the foot of Mount Gia. It is protected by the soldiers at the tower regions known as the "Black Coales." Though they are fairly bright in color, these vicious are quite hare very dark souls. Zabbaong has placed the treacherous War Lord in charge of this area.

STAGE 2

This is the Cave of No Return: a giant cavity of danger set deep within the mountain and infested with monstrous poisonous centipedes that have been mutated by the strange grass which grows in abundance within the cave. The exit to this dank underground winding is guarded by the Giant Centipede which is responsible for the cave’s name.

STAGE 3

The exit of the cave leads to this treacherous area filled with perilous waterfalls and many crevices of the deep. Movement will be difficult due to the tricky currents of water that wind their way throughout this stage. However, they do not compare to the danger of the four-headed water serpent known as the Hydra-Hydra, which is stationed at the exit.
STAGES

This stage is Zaxxon's laboratory and factory where he invents devices and creatures of mayhem. This is one of Zaxxon's favorite areas since these uncomplaining robot minions are programmed to follow orders without fail and their laughing steel bodies make them especially formidable. Guarding the exit at the end of this stage is the unbeatable Robot Guardian.

STAGE 5

Leaving the science of Zaxxon's lab factory, you now enter the Living Graveyard. Dark, mysterious and overgrown with the roots of plant life. The center of the courtyard is Zaxxon's army of zombie-skeletons who know only that they "live" to destroy the Dragon Fighter. This domain is under the supervision of the Decapitated Corpse. Part ghost and part skeleton, this dismembered fiend can only be defeated by going to the heart of the matter.

STAGE 6

This last stage is the area that surrounds the top of Mount Gla-Kora. The air is thin and populated by a horde of ferocious flying creatures. You will only be able to negotiate this stage as a dragon, which you automatically become upon entering. Hence, this stage can become a test of strategy and flying ability. But the final nest will come at the end where you will meet... Zaxxon himself.

When you defeat them, some enemies will provide you with items which will aid you in one of three ways: recovery, attack or metamorphosis. Generally, these items will appear on the ground.

ENEMIES

This journey is fraught with danger and daring. There is a myriad of monsters lying in wait, ever ready to attack and put an early end to your quest.

GIANT CENTIPEDE
Though it is able to fly, it seems that it's most deadly when it burrows out of sight to come up for a sneak attack.

WOLF-LORD
His powerful legs enable him to jump very high. He is most vulnerable to attack when he lands to generate more wolves.

HYDRO-HYDRA
While four of its heads can shoot fireballs, you must destroy the Heads to defeat this monster.

ROBOT GENERATOR
This durable apparatus creates the robots that populate the stage, especially near the exit. Its thick metal casing makes it a tough enemity indeed.

The DISCORPOREAL SKELETON
Bits and pieces of Undead once held together by a ghostly spirit, this enemy's weakness is in its only muscle... the heart that beats, surrounded by a shield of ribs.

ZABBAONG
No one knows what the wicked warlock looks like, because no one who has ventured there ever lived to tell the tale. At this point, you are on your own. Good luck and may the Dragon Spirit guide you.
